A CONTINUING BIBLIOGRAPHY FOR THE STUDY OF INTERCHURCH DIALOGUES (1981)

INTRODUCTION

Those involved in the study of interchurch and interconfessional dialogues continually lament the difficulty of finding some sort of index to the ever-increasing wealth of material in this area. Frequently those working in one dialogue may be unaware of similar work in other dialogues, leading to duplication of effort. Since there is no official list of the dialogues, it is difficult even to know where one may find the texts, commentaries, and information about them.

The pioneering effort in this field was Confessions in Dialogue, by Ehrenstrom and Gassmann, published by the World Council of Churches in 1972 and revised in 1975, but this book did not have bibliographies of the dialogues summarized. In 1978 the Centro Pro Unione published A Workbook of Bibliographies For The Study of Interchurch Dialogues, by James F. Puglisi, S.A. This provisional work has been updated three times by our staff in the spring issues of the bi-annual Bulletin of the Centro Pro Unione in 1979, '80 and in this issue, called A Continuing Bibliography for the Study of Interchurch Dialogues (1981). In 1982 we expect to publish a more definitive edition, titled A Bibliography of Interchurch and Interconfessional Theological Dialogues, which will contain all of the references published to date with supplementary materials from sources we could not survey in the past. We will continue to publish annual supplements of new material in our spring Bulletin.

The First Forum on Bilateral Conversations, convened in 1978 by the Commission on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches at the request of the Secretaries of the World Confessional Families, commended both Confessions in Dialogue and this bibliographical project of the Centro Pro Unione "as continuing sources of information for participants in the bilateral conversations and for those who study their progress". The Centro Pro Unione works in close collaboration with the Commission on Faith and Order in this project.

Our list of dialogues is as comprehensive as possible, and includes some dialogues for which we have found no bibliographical references for this issue. The official names of the dialogues are given where possible; otherwise a descriptive title is supplied. Dialogues whose official status is unclear are included when deemed of regional or international significance.

We cover official interchurch and interconfessional theological dialogues: official implies that, where it applies, participants have a mandate from the governing bodies of their churches, usually on a specified spectrum of topics (excluding thus conferences or meetings by private individuals or institutions); theological means that we do not cover dialogues primarily of a more practical sort, as various plans of church unions and conversations on "social" issues, although we are aware of the ambiguity of this distinction. Obviously, inclusion or exclusion of individual dialogues implies no judgement on their status or quality, and might arise only from the limitations of our resources.

Bibliographical entries cover: information about the dialogues and their different phases; texts - both definitive and preparatory - they issue; further theological reflection concerned with the dialogues. Survey of periodicals has been limited generally to those of theological interest and to the principal confessional information bulletins.

We have tried to standardize the system of abbreviations used by Ehrenstrom and Gassmann to meet the increasing complexity and diversity of the dialogues. Abbreviations of the names of countries in national dialogues are according to the International Postal Union, and alphabetization follows accordingly. We have grouped international and regional dialogues together in the bibliography to make it easier to follow developments within the confessional family groupings. To facilitate the research, subdivisions have been introduced occasionally in some dialogues according to meeting, document issued or other identifying phases of development.

Our format has undergone gradual changes as the work developed. Offsetting prepared cards reduces printing errors, and enables us to maintain a permanent file which can be readily updated in future editions. Greek and Slavonic entries are transliterated according to standard systems. A translation is added to these and other entries which are not in the principal modern Western European languages (i.e., English, German, French, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese).

This Bulletin is distributed, free of charge, to about 1,600 ecumenical institutes, centers, publications and selected individuals in an effort to facilitate the study of the dialogues. We appreciate the suggestions, information, exchange publications and contributions sent to us.
